DON'T LEAVE THE FARM.

THE GRANGER'S PLEA TO HIS BOYS.
Come, boys, I have something to tell you;
Come near, I would whisper it low;
You are thinking of leaving the homestead,
Don't be in a hurry to go;
The city has many attractions,
But think of the views and sins,
When once in the vortex of fashion,
How soon the downward course begins!
You talk of the mines and their wealth—
They're wealthy in gold without doubt;
But all there is gold in the farm, boys;
If you'll only shovel it out!
The mercantile trade is a hazard;
The goods are first high, and then low;
Better risk the farm a while longer—
Don't be in a hurry to go.

The great busy West has inducements,
And as has the busiest East;
But wealth is not made in a day, boys—
Don't be in a hurry to start!
The bankers and brokers are wealthy,
They take in their thousands or so—
Ah! think of the friends and deceptions—
Don't be in a hurry to go.

The farm is the safest and sure,
The orchards are laden to-day;
You are as free as the air of the mountains,
And no monarch can ever take you away;
Better stay on the farm while longer,
Though profits come in rather slow;
Remember you're making no rich boys—
Don't be in a hurry to go.

ARIZONA.

Indian Affairs—Harvesting at San Carlos—Another Renegade Apache Killed—Progress of the Verde Indians—Sad State of the Huapalaps.

PRESCOTT, July 5.—Advices from San Carlos say that the Apaches on that reserve commenced harvesting their grain crops June 23d. It is said that the crop was very large. In allowing these Indians to return to their reserve after the causeless and bloody outbreak of February last, Gen. Crook made them understand that in future their living must be gained by hard labor, and without cost to the Government. The decision they have since been kept steadily at work with good results.

Chaco, an Apache of some note, who absconded from his reserve a month ago, was lately arrested in the mountains bordering on Black River, by Sergeant Pitul (an efficient Apache non-commissioned officer in charge of the first company of Apache Scouts) who ordered Chaco to accompany him back to Camp Apache for imprisonment in the guard house—Chaco attempted to escape and was shot dead.

PRESCOTT, July 6.—The Miner has been again taken to the mountains to reserve from 1830 to 1850. They are well dressed, well fed, and provided with nearly one hundred good California horses; they have built houses and villages after the manner of white people, and without cost to the Government. The heat there is so intense and the country so barren that fifty of their horses have died, and irrigation is impracticable, so that no fields have been planted. Altogether their situation is not encouraging, and we firmly believe the selection of such a location as the residence of mountain Indians, who cannot withstand excessive heat, to have been ill advised and precipitate.

Samuel Larison of Cloverdale has hauled about 2,000 white-oak staves from Lake county within the last week, worth about $275 per thousand. Larison is a cooper, and uses these staves in making wine-pipes of 150 gallons capacity. He buys and cuts the oak trees in Scott's Valley, splits them in staves, and lets them remain on the ground to season until the following year, when he hauls them to Cloverdale.

Dr. Stockton, living about sixteen miles from Marysville, Kern county, informs the Tulare Times that he last year raised 1,200 pounds of the finest sweet potatoes on the sixth of an acre of ground, and that this year he is cultivating four acres of them, and expects a yield of four tons to the acre.

The Treasury Department is making arrangements to retire the inflated currency. Under the provisions of the currency law just passed by Congress, sums of $1,000 of mutilated currency, the issue of one or numerous banks, may be sent to Treasurer Spinner and new greenbacks obtained in exchange.

A young man named Wm. J. Cooper, a member of the Sacramento Light Artillery, lost his right arm at Marysville on Friday night, while firing a salute for the reception of the Yuba Light Infantry of Camptonville.

Death of Marshal La Concha.

From the San Francisco Guardian.
Another of the great captains of Spain has fallen on the battle-field. Of that race of war-scarred veterans which has been the glory and the pride of Spain for ages, has lost his life in the fierce heat of sectional strife. La Concha was a soldier worthy of rank by the side of Leopoldo O'Donnell. Although in chief command of the Republican forces of the North, he was, at heart, a firm adherent to the cause of Prince Alfonso. He was regarded with suspicion by Serrano and the Republican Cabinet, and it was only the fame of his great generalship and the popularity of what side he espoused that placed him in the supreme command of the army of the North. Success was only to be had by a great general. The Carlist forces were advancing in strength, and Concha alone could have arrested their course. The best military leaders had failed of success. Morion and Primo de Rivera all retired from the command, and the aged La Concha was, perhaps, the only man in Spain equal to the occasion. Of his success we have already learned. Manuel Outier, the Carlist leader, born at Tucuman, the ancient vicar of Buenos Ayres, in the year 1808. He was the son of General Juan de La Concha—himself a distinguished soldier of the war of 1808. After an education at an academy, he became a cadet of the military schools, he became a cadet of the Spanish Guards in 1820, and shortly afterwards an ensign in the Royal Guard of 1825, and in 1832, a lieutenant of infantry. At the outbreak of the seven years war of the Peninsula in 1832, he sought and obtained an important position in the army of the North, and played a very distinguished part in the engagements which took place in the Basque-Navarre provinces of the enemy's territory. Not long after, he was promoted to a captain of infantry in October, 1839. For his meritorious services at the battles of Mendaza and Zuniga, he was elevated to the rank of Commandant. Then rapidly rising to a lieutenant-colonel, he took part in only the occasion to display a wonderful strategy and superior military abilities—after the siege of Belascoin and the battle of the Pass of Arga, on the 28th of June, 1838, he was appointed a colonel of infantry. The Government highly appreciating his worth, elevated him to the high rank of Brigadier-General in 1839, and after his success at the taking of Castellote in 1840, the baton of Field-Marshal was placed in his hands. In the same year he was appointed Commander-General of the provinces of Cuenca, Guadalajara and Albacete. On the 13th of June, by a splendid coup de main, at Olmedilla, he completely routed the factions of Balmaeda and Palencia, numbering 6,000 infantry and 7,000 cavalry. This was a most important movement, for it was the intention of the Carlist troops to make prisoners of the family of Queen Christina, who were at Magaca, a short distance from the scene of the engagement, and but one day's journey from the Carlist stronghold. The royal family would, undoubtedly, have been captured but for the bold stroke of La Concha in the very heart of the enemy's territory. Not long afterwards he was made Commander-in-Chief of the expedition to Portugal, having for its object the restoration on the throne of that kingdom Dona Maria de la Gloria. In this, as in all other his campaigns, he was eminently successful. He overcame the forces of Count Das Antas at Oporto on the 30th of June, 1847, quelled the spirit of rebellion, and left Dona Maria in full and undisturbed possession of her rights. For this signal achievement he was created Marquis of Duero, with the rank of Grandee of the First Class. Again, in 1848, he terminated the unequal fortune of the second Carlist war, in the province of Catalonia. On the 21st of May, 1849, he reached the high grade of Captain-General of the army of Spain, occupying a rank second only to the Regent, General Espartero. Since 1849, he has lived in retirement, passing his declining days in the quiet of his family circle. It was only a short time ago, when Serrano, to save himself from defeat at the hands of the Carlists, placed the veteran General in supreme command of the Republican army. Four-score years of age, sufficient to quench the warlike ardor that still burned within the soldier's breast. He fell gallantly leading his troops up the heights of Estella, and, according to recent advices, his death was the signal for the complete retreat of the Republican force. He was the only General in Spain capable of checking the Carlist advance, and yet if we are to believe reliable reports, he was a firm supporter of the claims of Prince Alfonso, the son of Queen Isabella, whom he desired to see placed upon the throne. It is clear that Serrano and his adherents are in great straits, and that the crisis is fast approaching. The late victories of the Carlists are a keen to the revolution which has already too long disgraced the fair land of Ferdinand and Isabella.

Los Angeles Herald. CITY AND COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER. THURSDAY, JULY 9, 1874. Cucamonga Homestead Association.

Messrs. HELLMAN, THOMPSON, HANSEN, MILES and others have just returned from Cucamonga, where they have been to make an examination and preliminary arrangements for developing the water supply for the use of the shareholders. Mr. HANSEN, who knows every inch of this country and who has followed his profession of surveyor and engineer in it for twenty years, pronounces this homestead tract the most beautiful location and the finest soil for orange and grape culture that can be found in the orange belt. It has excellent drainage, which is just as necessary as an abundance of water. Mr. HANSEN after measuring the stream at the point of diversion, and calculating the velocity and fall and leaving the broadest margin for dry seasons, etc., estimates seventeen millions of gallons as the quantity that will be delivered daily (through a twenty-two inch pipe) into the large reservoir on the company's land, irrigating daily, if necessary, 350,000 trees. From this reservoir, a six-inch pipe will supply each shareholder and the public park. We expect that Cucamonga, ere long, will be the most inviting town outside of Los Angeles.

A Prophecy.

VICTORIA WOODHILL has uttered a prophecy. She predicts that California will become the banner State in the great free love movement. While we have not unbounded faith in VICTORIA'S prophetic powers, we should not be in the least astonished to see this one of her predictions fully verified. California is a fine field for this or any other vague, theoretical, impractical, absurdism or doctrine. As a whole, California men and women are honorable and virtuous. As a community, our moral character is as high and pure as that of any given number of men and women honoring the American eagle as their favorite bird and looking upon the star-spangled banner as their national emblem. But in proportion to our population we have as many theorists, Utopian dreamers and dissatisfied seekers after earthly impossibilities as may be found anywhere in the world. Many men who think more of somebody else's wife than they do of their own; women who think other women's husbands better than their own; men and women both who have no very high opinion of man's faith nor woman's constancy; husbands and wives who are dissatisfied with their present companions and would be dissatisfied with any that they were compelled to remain with longer than a month. All these will become converts to VICTORIA'S doctrine. That we have enough of this class to make ours the banner State in the free love crusade, is more than we care to hazard our reputation as a reliable, truth-telling journalist by saying. Yet VICTORIA has said it, and we repeat that we should not be surprised if the result proved her a prophetess.

THE Supreme Court of Massachusetts has rendered a decision which appears to be both unjust and ludicrous. On the question of the legal right of the Board of School Trustees to exclude ladies from seats in school bodies, the Court held that the School Committee is the sole judge of its own membership. Ladies had been elected School Trustees, but the Board of Education refused to issue their certificates of election. The point is a little too fine for practical, everyday life. If a Board of School Trustees have this power, has not a Board of Supervisors the right to arrogate to themselves the same power, and if so, why may not a ring in such a Board keep all whom they do not wish to sit among them out of their seats altogether? In the case of these Boston ladies, the decision of the Court is a direct setting aside of the will of the people. Their election was legal and constitutional, and they are entitled to their certificates.

How easy it is for people to be mistaken is illustrated in the case of the half-idiotic old man, KOSH, who was arrested some time ago at Salt Lake on a suspicion of being the old fiend BENDER. The latter is said to be intelligent in appearance, of good address and affable in manners; yet when KOSH was first taken those who knew BENDER were so confident that he was the man, that a strong guard was necessary to keep them from hanging the old man, who was as much unlike the Kansas fiend as chalk is unlike cheese. The BENDERS are still at large.

A JUVENILE wedding took place near Visalia the other day. DAVID SLINKARD, aged seventy-seven, led to the altar the blushing Mrs. FRANCIS GRIFFITH, aged seventy-two. "Eternal love in love's fresh case, weighs not the dust and injuries of age, nor gives to necessary wrinkles place, but makes antiquities for aye his page; finding the first conceit of love there bred, where time and outward forms would show it dead."

THE Old Fellows' Library of San Francisco contains 25,141 volumes, and is in a very prosperous condition. It has never been a beggar and has never invoked the aid of a lottery.

Cotton Culture.

The few experiments in cotton growing yet made in this valley, have been so successful that persons familiar with the business, unhesitatingly express their conviction that at no distant day, cotton culture will become a leading industry in this part of the State. The soil and climate is all that could be desired for the business. Colonel STRONG of Merced county, who has done more than any other man on the Pacific Coast to demonstrate that California will become a great cotton State, publishes an article in the last number of the Overland Monthly, in which he affirms the success of cotton culture in California as established, and illustrated by the following comparative table, the estimates being based upon facts within his personal knowledge, and he believes them to fairly represent the difference of advantage between the sections compared, leaving out of calculation land rent in each case, and assuming the land to be owned by the cultivator:

Value of crop produced in Merced county by two men—dry five bales, at $50 per bale, on farm.....	$7,500 00
Net value of 750 bushels of wheat produced by same men and team.....	200 00
Harvest labor of two men without team, three months.....	312 00
Labor in new crop of grain, dry sowing, etc., four months.....	320 00
Total work of two men for one year.....	$8,812 00
Less expense six-horse team five months, at $50.....	250 00
Less feed of same, five months, at $50.....	250 00
Less expense paid for hoeing cotton.....	150 00
Less expense paid for picking cotton.....	1,000 00
Less expense of ginning and baling cotton.....	185 00
Net result representing wages and subsistence, rent, etc.....	$1,057 00

Or, for each man.....	$978 50
Value of crop produced in Tennessee Valley, north Alabama, by two men; 4 bales cotton, at $50 per bale, on farm 180 bushels corn, at 75 cents per bushel, on farm.....	$2,400 00
100 bushels cotton, at 75 cents per bushel.....	75 00
40 bushels cotton, at 75 cents per bushel.....	30 00
Total product of two men, one year.....	$3,805 00
Less 20 percent, on value of male, $30.....	6 00
Less feed of same, one year.....	75 00
Less ginning and baling.....	20 00
Net result representing wages, subsistence, rent, etc.....	$270 00
Or, for each person.....	$135 00
Value of crop produced in Mississippi river bottom, Crittenden county, Arkansas, by two men; 15 bales cotton, at $50 per bale on farm.....	$5,000 00
Less 20 percent, on value of male $30.....	6 00
Less feed of same, one year.....	75 00
Less extra picking.....	75 00
Less ginning and baling.....	75 00
Net result representing wages, subsistence, rent, etc.....	$502 00
Or, for each man.....	$251 00
Excess of wages, through production of California over north Alabama.....	$1,807 00
Or, per man.....	$903 50
Excess of wages, through production of California over Mississippi river bottom, for two men.....	1,335 00
Or, per man.....	$667 50

Relative Cost of Gas.

The following are the current rates paid for gas per 1,000 feet by consumers in the twenty-four cities named. It will be seen that the people of Los Angeles pay a few cents—a fraction—more than those of any other city:

REV. OTIS GIBSON, who conducts the Chinese Mission on Washington street, San Francisco, remarked a few days ago that "not one German in a thousand was a good citizen." This is about the quality of sentiment one would expect a fanatic to entertain. The Rev. Otis Gibson does not believe that a class of foreigners, with white skins, educated in the same code of morals and worshipping the same God with ourselves possesses the principles and qualities requisite for making good citizens of a Republic; but he does believe that a tribe of pagans, who laugh at our religion, sneer at our customs, detest our laws, and hold it a virtue to steal, possesses the elements for making a citizen and statesman. The Rev. OTIS does not like Germans, and he does like Chinese. He would do this country a service by leaving it, and he might add to the material of the Celestial fool-killer by returning to China.

CONGRESS has made a new appropriation of $90,000 for defraying the expenses incurred in surveying Government lands. Of this sum, $60,000 are to be expended in surveying public lands and $30,000 in the survey of private claims. The appropriation is now subject to the order of the United States Surveyor-General, and we would respectfully call his attention to the fact that he may judiciously and beneficially expend a portion of it in the southern portion of California. There are in the southern coast counties a number—in fact, a great many—townships that have never been surveyed. That this has so long been neglected works a serious injury to the country in the way of retarding the settlement of the lands in question. If this item meets the eye of the Surveyor-General, and of course it will, we trust he will give our suggestion due consideration.

PHILADELPHIA has an active and industrious ring of thieves in her city officials. Her present debt is $90,000, and her taxable property is only about half that of New York. The annual expense of the city government is $200,000, and the rate of taxation is now $2 20 on the $100.

THE editor of the New York Sun will feel like a whipped school boy when he sees a late number of the Placer Argus, and reads the castigation that paper gives him. It was very foolish on the part of DANA to rouse the ire of the Argus man.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Mr. Brown, of the Clarendon, has taken a five-year lease of the second and third stories of Perry & Riley's building.

Officer Harris found a lady's gold bracelet on the Fourth. The owner can recover it by calling at the Herald office.

Business still continues lively at the important. What is shown is not as they sell goods lower than ever was known in Los Angeles.

Mr. Gus Davis, of the firm of Davis Bros., Anaheim, was in the city yesterday on a business trip. He is looking well and jolly as ever.

The ladies of the M. E. Church desire to return thanks to all the friends who contributed to the success of their Fourth of July dinner. The net proceeds were $450.

The funeral services of the late John Goller took place yesterday afternoon at half-past 4 o'clock. The Masonic Fraternity of which he was a member conducted the ceremonies.

Prof. Denton left for Riverside yesterday, where he will spend a few days visiting among relations. He will return to the city and open his course of lectures on the 15th inst.

Mrs. Teodoli, teacher of music, gives her scholars a vacation of one month during the heated season. She will have a gathering of her pupils at her residence Saturday afternoon on the closing of the term.

A German, about sixty years of age, in the employ of Mrs. Weinschenk on San Pedro street, was overcome by the heat on Tuesday. He was taken to his home, but he is in charge of the city authorities.

The Board of Supervisors was again in session yesterday, but transacted no business of general interest. In the morning they passed upon a large number of bills, and in the afternoon resumed the equalization of the tax list.

The Enterprise barber-shop has been removed for the present to Mr. Hauck's store on Commercial street. As soon as Mr. Ducommun's new building is completed, the shop will there occupy elegant and commodious quarters.

We call attention to Mr. Millikin's note to ice consumers. Let our people keep as cool as possible till Mr. Millikin can cool them off. We prize the ice-man this hot weather, and know that Mr. M. will spare no pains to "kill the bill."

Mr. Goldwater, formerly one of the leading merchants of Los Angeles, and now a wealthy merchant in Arizona, arrived in the city Sunday last, accompanied by his daughter. He will make one or two short trips, and return to Arizona in a few days.

The steamer Constantine will arrive at San Pedro this morning and passengers will take the 10 A. M. train for San Diego. She will sail on her return trip on Saturday, calling only at Santa Barbara. Passengers for San Francisco will take the 4 P. M. train of that day.

We are glad to note that Col. J. J. Warner has been appointed United States Commissioner in bankruptcy for this district. He has already filed his requisite bond and will soon make a trip to San Francisco to take the oath of office and be regularly installed.

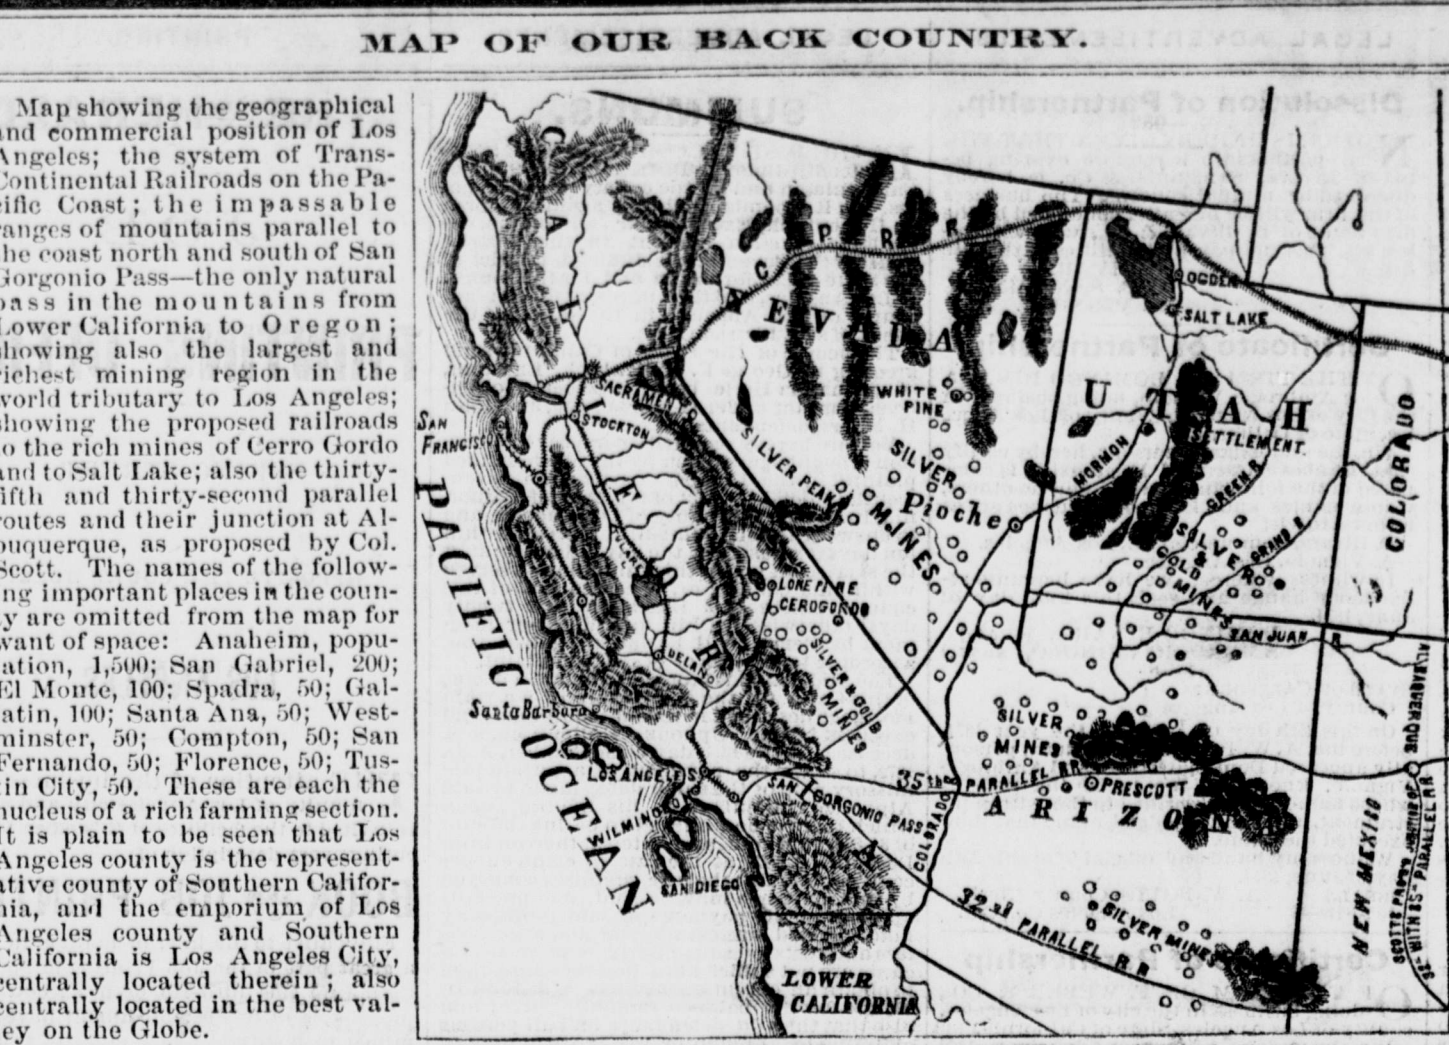

At 6 o'clock Tuesday evening the Senator and Los Angeles left Wilmington together for San Francisco, with a general understanding that there would be a trial of the speed of the two vessels on the voyage up. At 7:30 A. M. yesterday the Los Angeles left Santa Barbara and at noon the Senator had not reached that point. It looks very much as though the Senator is doomed to come out second best in the contest according to the reports.

The funeral of the late John Goller occurred at half-past 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, under the auspices of L. A. Lodge No. 42, F. & A. M., of which deceased was a member. Mr. Goller was one of the party whose members nearly all perished while prospecting in Death Valley in 1849. He was the first blacksmith who settled in Los Angeles. He died at the age of forty-nine years, and was the father of three daughters, his wife having been dead about a year.

La Cronica pays this handsome compliment to our fellow townsman and young orator, B. Hudson: The amiable and distinguished young man, Mr. Rodney Hudson, was presented to the public as Orator of the day. The oratorical faculties of this young man are notable; his voice and pronunciation clear and sonorous, his looks, all manifest that he has made a study of popular eloquence. His speech, although very short and substantial, pleased everybody, as he spoke of everything and said nothing to offend any class of persons.

A man whose name is supposed to be Welch, lately employed at Schott's dairy, made an attempt at self-destruction, on Main street, in front of Moran's paint shop, Tuesday. He cut himself on the left arm with a razor, inflicting several severe wounds and severing a small vein, from which he bled profusely. While engaged in the self-sustained surgical operation he attracted the attention of some passers by who forcibly restrained him from doing further damage to himself, and delivered him into the hands of the officers. He was taken at once to the office of Drs. Stawney & Janco, where his wounds were dressed and then he was lodged in jail, out of harm's way. The cause of the man's singular conduct is unknown.

The new steamer Los Angeles of the Goodall, Nelson & Perkins' line which is now returning to San Francisco after her trial trip down the coast, is said to be a finely appointed and fast sailing craft. She was formerly known as the revenue cutter Wyanda, but has been so completely transformed and refitted, as to become to all intents and purposes a new ship. The Los Angeles has demonstrated the fact that she will run eleven miles an hour on less than ten tons of coal per day. This steamer has first-class accommodations for 100 passengers, and is furnished besides with four ballast state-rooms, a dining saloon and upper saloon, a elegantly fitted up, and the accommodations throughout are first-class. The officers of the Los Angeles are: Captain G. Debnay, formerly of the Ventura; Purser, Wm. D. Sturges, First Officer, D. Davis; Second Officer, John Sullivan; Chief Engineer, John Hutton; Second Engineer, J. Snooks; Steward, Wm. A. Burton.

MAP OF OUR BACK COUNTRY.

Some Pumpkins. Senator Maclay furnishes us an anecdote which illustrates more fully the wonderful productiveness of this valley than anything else which has come under our notice. Last Fall, the Senator in company with John Quincy Adams, of Massachusetts, while visiting this country, made a flying trip to Los Nietos. In a field there they noticed some pumpkins which appeared to them of extraordinary size, and they remarked this fact to the owner of the ranch. "Them," said the simple-minded agriculturist, "big? Nothing but dwarfs—blasted on the vines before they matured. Last year was better for pumpkins than this, and I grew some on 'em as was a caution. One was so big that we couldn't load it into a wagon, even if we had a wagon large enough and strong enough to hold it. It was quite a considerable sized fruit. We concluded that it would be too expensive to build a truck especially to haul it, and put up the hoisting machinery necessary to raise it off the ground, so we got a force together and just rolled it over the top of the hill. Then the 14 of the town made a sort of picnic and came and dug into one side of it and worked up, I think, nigh on to two thousand pumpkin pies from the small part which they took away. The whole town ate of them, and all the country around, with pies and some was sent to Los Angeles and some to San Francisco. The pies were quite a curiosity, you see, coming from so large a vegetable. Well, that was the last of it. One side of the pumpkin, and afterwards we turned a drove of hogs inside of it—a hundred or so—an' shut them up. In about a month they ate their way through and came out about the fat test of hogs I ever set eyes on. So in one way and another we got shed of the pumpkin, and what wasn't used otherwise, we used for fertilizing my ranch and others in the neighborhood. All this is now is the pie took out, and we used them to shingle the church with." We are informed that the church is still standing at Los Nietos as an evidence of the truthfulness of this story.

Building Notes. Mr. Ducommun has concluded to add another story to his building soon to be erected on the corner of Main and Commercial streets, making it three stories high, instead of two, as first contemplated.

Mr. A. M. Shannon has just secured the contract for building two cottages for Mr. Hutchinson on Spring street, between Eighth and Ninth.

Mr. L. W. Hellman will soon award the contract for building four frame cottages, on Second street, between Fort and Spring.

Mr. Perry will soon erect a residence in the eastern part of the city, at a cost of $2,500.

Plans are drawn for a cottage to be built for Mr. Trudell, costing about $3,000.

Work has been commenced upon Mr. Armistroy's store to be erected on the corner of Alameda and Aliso streets. The old frame building formerly occupying that place will be moved back into the corral. The new building will be brick, 40x55 feet, with two stories and basement.

Mr. E. F. Kysor is the architect for all the new-frame buildings, which Mr. Goodwin, of the firm of Pulaski & Goodwin, is building a fine residence on Fort street, on the lot which he recently purchased from Mr. Wm. Priddy.

Card of Thanks. The following card appears in the Santa Barbara Press of the 6th inst. We copy it, reiterating the thanks to our citizens who have so liberally aided this noble charity:

The Sisters of Charity of Santa Barbara tender their sincere and grateful thanks to the citizens of Los Angeles for the contribution of $530 towards the reconstruction of their school and asylum, recently destroyed by fire. Special thanks are due to Miss Francisco Wolfskill for her kind interest. Through her untiring efforts the above amount has been realized, for which among the friends and benefactors of the institution, her name shall ever occupy a prominent place. Santa Barbara, July 6th.

We were in error yesterday morning in stating that the non-arrival of the San Francisco mail on Tuesday was caused by a failure in connection at Bakersfield. The clerks in the San Francisco Postoffice celebrated the Fourth to a certain extent and failed to dispatch the mail matter at the usual time. That was the reason for the delinquency, as we are informed by one of the proprietors of the Telegraph stage line.

Much dissatisfaction is expressed by many of our merchants with the custom in vogue among some of keeping their places of business open on Sunday. The laws regulating such matters should be enforced, and we understand that active measures will soon be taken to secure such a greatly to be desired state of affairs.

To Ice Consumers. I regret to state that with my best endeavors, I find that I am unable to supply the increasing demand for ice without shipping it from San Francisco, and in order to do so shall be obliged to advance the price to four cents per pound. This may cause some dissatisfaction, but those who have had any experience in shipping ice, know that I cannot ship it from San Francisco and sell it at the price heretofore charged, (three cents per pound.) On Friday morning ice will be delivered as usual. Parties wishing ice to-day, can have it at 3 P. M. by coming to the factory for it. I shall have four tons come by the Mohongo. With thanks for past patronage I will endeavor another year to have an ice machine that will manufacture ice enough at home to meet all the demands of our fast growing city. G. E. MILLIKEN.

The Turn-Verein Society held a meeting last night and elected the following officers for a term of six months: President, Joseph Kurtz; Vice-President, C. C. Lips; Recording Secretary, Geo. Hansen; Treasurer, Fred. Froberg; First Gymnastic Instructor, Henry Koch; Second Gymnastic Instructor, Chas. Morio; Guardian of Apparatus, Peter Rink; Librarian, Hugo Mattesing; Stage Manager, Mendel Meyer; Committee of Arrangements, John Weeber, A. Albrand, E. Neitzke; Finance Committee, Joe Bayer, Henry Stole, H. Hass; Committee on Debates, G. Hansen, J. Kurtz, C. C. Lips.

Sam. Berge, our former carrier, desires all parties indebted to him for the DAILY HERALD up to July 1, '74, to call at the HERALD office and settle without delay. Mr. D. T. Maloney now has charge of our circulation and will collect all dues for city subscriptions accruing after the first of this month.

San Diego Items. From the Union of July 7. The third term of the San Diego Academy opened yesterday, under the most favorable auspices. A number of pupils in attendance being larger than at the opening of any previous term.

Col. Henry Finnegan, Chief of the U. S. Detective Service on the Pacific Coast, arrived in San Diego yesterday to investigate the photographing of a robbery. Col. Finnegan is one of the most efficient officers in the service of the Government.

A walk around town yesterday showed us more activity in every branch of business and industry than has been noted some time. With the opening of the harvest season there is a decided revival in trade, and the outlook presents a very encouraging prospect.

To Pacific Slope Editors. From the Santa Barbara Press. The Odd Fellows' Public Library of Santa Barbara respectfully asks the editors and publishers of newspapers on the Pacific slope, to send them a file of their respective papers, for the use of this incipient organization. It is believed that such generous action on their part will not only add a very attractive feature to the new library rooms, but bring no little benefit to the donors. Tourists, who will so largely frequent these rooms, are desirous of gaining reliable information concerning other localities on the Pacific slope, and the perusal of a local paper might serve to direct them where a satisfactory resort or home could be found. Thanks will be due such editors as are disposed to mention this matter, and to publishers who will address "Odd Fellows' Public Library, Santa Barbara, Cal."

A dispatch dated at Salt Lake, July 3d, says: "The mail was stopped last night at 11:30 o'clock by masked men with shotguns at Big Dog creek, twenty-five miles south of Pleasant Valley. The south coach was stopped first and run into the bushes, and held until the north coach came. T. C. Jackson and a passenger named Billings were robbed on the north coach of $300. The robbers recognized Jackson and returned him his money. A passenger on the south coach was relieved of $60, and Wells, Fargo & Co.'s treasure-box was broken open and everything of value taken; their loss is not known.

The Oregon Legislature will stand as follows: House—Independents, 24; Democrats, 19; Republicans, 17; Senate—Independents, 7; Democrats, 12; Republicans, 11. The Independents are weaker in proportion in the Senate than in the House, owing to the fact that one-half of the Senate are hold-overs, and they are all Democrats and Republicans.

On Wednesday morning, Abraham T. Guinn, employed on the dam now being built by the South Yuba Canal Company, in Fordyce Valley, fell from the trestle-work and received injuries from which he died four hours afterward.

The Salinas Democrat is informed that the Southern Pacific Railroad will carry grain this season (storage included) from Castville to San Francisco for $4 per ton; from Salinas City, $4 25; Chualar, $4 75; Gonzales, $5; Soledad, $5 25.
